INTRODUCTORY.

In the preparation of this City Directory we have spared neither time nor pains to secure exact information on all the subjects treated. But a work like a directory, made up as it is of many little items of information, is peculiarly susceptible to error, in spite of the greatest care.

A house to house canvass was made by the compilers to every part of the city, and such questions asked as should have elicited full and accurate statistics concerning every family and individual. We have conscientiously endeavored to prepare for Bluffton a directory that will not only be a credit to the compilers, but to our enterprising and beautiful city.

Under the head of "New Names and Corrections" on page 180 will be found a list of changes so far as we were able to obtain them which were occasioned by removals and new comers after the body of the work was printed together with a few errors discovered as the work progressed.

We invite our patrons to examine all departments of the book, as we believe they will find many items of useful information not found in any other published form.

We desire to thank our many patrons and all others who have given us help and encouragement in the enterprise.

WILL B. GUTELIUS
P. A. ALLEN.

STREET DIRECTORY.

System of Numbering Houses.

The system of numbering is what is known as the Philadelphia system, which establishes base lines, running east and west and north and south, and all houses are numbered in the several directions from these base lines, each block counting one hundred in numbering in any direction.

We take first Main street, running north and south, as a base line for numbering east and west, and Market street, running east and west, as a base line for numbering north and south.

All points east of Main street, on any of the several streets are known as east, and all points west of Main are known as west: any point north of Market street on the several streets is known as north, and any point south of Market street on any of the several streets, is known as south, regardless of whatever the number may be on any of the several streets. For instance, the Baptist church is located at the corner of South Johnson and West Cherry streets. Even numbers are placed on the south side and odd numbers on the north side of the east and west streets, and even numbers are placed on the west and odd numbers on the east side of the north streets and south streets.

Taking the public square as the basing point, the streets of the city are located from this point.

Arnold street is seven squares south of Market, and extends from Main east to city limits.

Bennett street is two squares east of Main, and extends from north to south limits.

Beth avenue is twelve squares west of Main and extends from north to south limits of Tribolet & Dougherty's addition.

Baldwin street is nine squares west of Main and extends from north to south limits.

Bond street is ten squares west of Main and extends from north to south limits.

Cherry street is two squares south of Market, and extends from east to west limits.

Central avenue is four squares south of Market, and extends from Oak to east limits.

Drummond street is two and one-half squares north of Market, and extends from the L. E. & W. railroad, east to Morgan.

Dougherty street is eleven squares west of Main and extends from south limits to north line of Tribolet & Dougherty's addition, from which place it continues as Walmer street to Washington.

Elm street is one and one-half squares south of Market, and extends from east limits to Marion.

Hall street is four squares north of Market and extends from L. E. & W. railroad east to Wabash river.

Hale street is five squares north of Market and extends from L. E. & W. railroad east to Wabash river.

Horton street is ten squares south of Market, and extends from Johnson to east limits.

Indiana street is seven squares west of Main and extends from Wabash to south limits.

Jefferson street is two squares south of Tribolet street.

Johnson street is one square west of Main and extends from north limits to Horton.

Jersey street is six squares west of Main and extends from Washington to south limits.

Lancaster street is three squares north of Market and extends from L. E. & W. railroad east to Wabash river.

Liberty street is four squares east of Main and extends from north to south limits.

Marion street is two squares west of Main and extends from north to south limits.

Market street extends from east to west limits running along north side of public square. It is the dividing street between the north and the south.

Main street extends from the north to the south limits running along east side of public square. It is the dividing street between the east and west.

Miller street is two squares north of Market and extends from L. E. & W. railroad to Marion, Seasonable Furnishing Goods. Neckwear, Underwear, Headwear and Shirts.

Our Idea ...

Is to keep the best makes of all kinds of goods, to sell them at a reasonable profit, guaranteeing them perfect and guaranteeing to our customers that we will not betray their confidence. What we tell you will be strictly reliable and what you do not know about an article we will tell you for your best interest. We can furnish for any article we sell you. We can help you out when you are in trouble because we know how. It will pay you to stick to the people who can do you some good. We have no experiment. We know what we offer you and what it will do. You know who we are and where we are. Bear us in mind. Yours Resp.

Repairs

THE STATE LIFE INSURANCE CO.

Rapid growth is not of itself essential to success but it is an evidence of energy and push which are usually productive of success. In exact figures the assets are now $1,015,072 and after deducting all liabilities there is an admitted surplus of $315,654. For the year the gain in assets was $343,702 and in surplus of $53,879. In insurance in force there was a handsome gain of over five and a quarter millions, and as an additional security to policy holders the company has deposited $250,000 more with the auditor of state, making $750,000 so deposited now. The requirements of the reserve deposit law of Indiana call for a deposit of $670,278.28, so it will be seen that the company has exceeded the legal requirements.

AMOUNT OF INSURANCE IN FORCE DECEMBER 31, 1901, $33,615,656.

This accomplished in seven years and three months, beats the record of the world.

THE STATE LIFE has in force in Wells County over $300,000, which is more than double that of any other company. These policies are held by representative business men and leading farmers of the county.

C. N. COVERDALE, of Bluffton, is district manager for the counties of Wells, Huntington, Adams and Blackford. He or any of his agents will be glad to explain the different plans of the company.

For good territory and liberal agency contracts apply to

C. N. COVERDALE,

District Manager. Bluffton, Ind.

The Evening News

Is the best advertising medium of any daily paper published in the city of Bluffton for the reason that it reaches 1215 houses daily. When the city directory was issued in May, 1900, the total circulation was 825, now it is more than that in the city of Bluffton alone and has added many readers on the rural routes and in the small towns of the county. Such an increase denotes that it is not only the best advertising medium, but that it is the best newspaper in the field. It gives more home news than any other daily paper in the city, therefore more people read it. If you are an advertiser or reader of the News you know these statements are facts
